

Filing a Complaint

You download this document for submittal to Compliance@NRPP.info

Dear Citizen,

The NRPP is serious about compliance to required standards of practice and the NRPP Code of Ethics for NRPP Credentialed Professionals.

Please know:

1. Complaints must be received in writing by the NRPP from an aggrieved party (e.g. person who owns the property), a State Radon Office, or a certifying, code, health, environmental or licensing agency (public or private). Verbal complaints will not be processed, but feel free to discuss concerns with our Compliance Office.
2. NRPP will not review business or contractual disputes. If the infraction clearly involves contractual issues rather than a violation of protocols or NRPP policies, citizens are advised to seek legal remedies on a local basis.

Complaints are to be forwarded to the Compliance Office for review and processing. The Compliance Office may often request additional information that may include: written records of the relationship; further written description of the incident or situation; and photographic evidence. The Compliance Office will consider grievances received compared to required standards of practice and the NRPP Code of Ethics for NRPP Credentialed Professionals. Should the Compliance Office find that the charges are with merit, the individual or facility in question will be notified in writing and a response to the complaint will be sought.

In all cases, it is NRPP's intent to resolve issues through clear and concise exchange of information and discussion. It is hoped that this process allows the certified individual or facility to resolve the dispute and to learn from any infraction. Based on the severity of the Compliance Office findings, disciplinary actions may include, but are not limited to: suspension, revocation and restitution of listings or credentials and sanctions such as additional education requirements and required quality assurance plans with audits for quality.

There is no prohibition against NRPP professionals from aiding an aggrieved party in their effort to compile information needed to file and process a complaint. However, to remain in compliance with national and state laws relating to competitive practices in the marketplace, the AARST-NRPP will not process complaints from business associations or competitors and will not process complaints relating to pricing or market activities.

If you have any questions, feel free to contact the Compliance Office at: Compliance@NRPP.info
